God save the KING.

From on board the Rupert, in the Road of Leghorne, Aug. 12. Admiral Byng arrived here last Night from Cagliari in Sardinia. During his Stay there, the Commander in chief of the Spanish Forces had yielded up that Kingdom to the Prince d'Ottajano for the Emperour, and had imbarked with those Forces for Spain on the 5th Instant, when Admiral Byng came away: The Form of the Prince d'Ottajano's Cession of that Island to the King of Sardinia's Troops was agreed and settled, and was to be performed on the 6th Instant; immediately after which, the said Prince d'Ottajano was to to return to Genoa. The laſt Letters Admiral Byng had received from Sicily, adviſed, that the Convoy with the empty Tranſports which carried the firſt Body of the Spaniſh Troops to Barcelona, were returned to Termini, where the remaining Part of the Marqueſs de Lede's Army was ſhipping off: And as the Winds have been ſince, it is not doubted they are in a fair Way towards Barcelona. So that the Affairs of thoſe two Iſlands are intirely compleated. To-Morrow the Admiral ſets out for Hanover.

Stockholm, Aug. 6. We have yet no further Advices from the Squadron commanded by Admiral Wachtmeiſter; nor any certain Account of the Motions of the Muſcovite Gallies; but for oppoſing any Deſcent which they may attempt to make towards Gaffle, all the Troops which can conveniently be drawn thither, are marching to reinforce General Hamilton. The Men of War which ſailed ſome Days ago from the Dahlers, are expected back in this River. On the 4th Inſtant in the Morning, Baron Sparre, the late Swediſh Envoy in England, and Major Finboe, arrived here in ſix Days from Hanover, by the Way of Lubeck, from whence they came in the Warwick Man of War commanded by Captain Williams: Yeſterday the ſaid Baron Sparre made his Report at Carlberg, to the King and Senate, of his Negotiation at the Britiſh Court. The Prince of Heſſe, his Swediſh Majeſty's Brother, who has been here about 3 Months, deſigns to ſet out on his Return to Caſſel in 8 or 10 Days; but it is ſaid he will come hither again next Spring.

The Paymaſter of Penſions to the Widows of Officers on the Eſtabliſhment of Ireland, doth hereby give Notice, that whereas Money was iſſued for the Uſe of the following Widows in the Year 1716, and hath not been demanded of him; the ſame will be returned into the Treaſury of Ireland, except the ſaid Widows or their legal Repreſentatives ſhall, within three Months, claim and prove their Title thereto, viz.
